HEALY HORSEWHIPPED.

TIM'S UNRULY TONGUE BRINGS HIM TROUBLE.

A Sound Threshing Administered by Parnell's Nephew—McDermott Resents Healy's Speech at Longford on Sunday—Timothy in an Undignified Position.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—"Timothy Healy, McCarthyite member of the House of Commons for the northern division of County Longford, has been publicly horsewhipped in the streets of the town of Longford by McDermott, nephew of the late Charles S. Parnell." Such is the terse record of an interesting and not unexpected event which has just been placed upon the boards of various newspapers of this city, everyone of which is surrounded by demonstrative crowds of hot-blooded Irishmen. Parnellites in throngs gaze upon the big black letters of the notice, are jubilant and do not hesitate to taunt the McCarthyites, who also crowd about the boards. The consequence is that a number of fights have already occurred, while the temper of the partisans is such as to suggest the necessity of a strong and vigilant police force at the polls. It has been in the air that Healy would by some one and somehow be called to a prompt reckoning for the exceedingly vigorous speech delivered by him at Longford on Sunday last. Ordinarily Healy is a remarkably forcible orator, but on the occasion in question he excelled himself, having gone so far as to refer to Mrs. O'Shea as "an English prostitute."

The particulars of the assault, as far as understood, are:—McDermott, who is a solicitor, this morning espied Timothy Healy, dressed in his barrister's wig and gown, walking through Four Courts. Without a moment's delay McDermott drew a horsewhip from under his coat, and rushing upon the astounded commoner, vigorously delivered blows. Healy was taken completely by surprise, and stumbling, fell flat upon his back, his wig falling from his head at the same time. Healy prostrated, his enemy continued to remorselessly and unsparingly slash whatever part of his body presented itself. This, however, did not last long, for Healy, springing to his feet, the two men clinched. There was a rapid delivery of fist blows by McDermott, and then a short wrestling match, which was concluded by Healy again going to earth.

While this was going on a crowd of solicitors and barristers were flocking from all parts of the Four Courts. These gentlemen at last intervened, and forming a cordon about Healy at once prevented him from again attacking and from being attacked.

McDermott explained to the on-lookers that he "thrashed the hound because of that speech of his at Longford on Sunday last, in which he so brutally assailed the honor of my kinsman's widow, Mrs. Parnell."

McDermott was arrested shortly after the assault, but was immediately discharged, as the city declined to enforce the charge against him.

SEVERELY REPRIMANDED.

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—Capt. Uzelac, who commanded a Croatian regiment in the Austrian service, has been severely reprimanded for using language calculated to provoke the Hungarians when laying a wreath at the foot of the statue of General Jellalich.

THE RUSSIANS MEET A FOE.

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—The epidemic of typhus in the Russian army on the banks of the Pruth, has driven the army back, much to the gratification of the Roumanian militia, who have been compelled to hold an exhausting vigil on the opposite side of the river.

ASKING JESUIT ADVICE.

ROME, Nov. 3.—The sudden summons of the chief of the Jesuits to Rome is generally regarded as an indication that the Pope is prepared to extend to that order something of its former preponderance in church affairs. As France draws nearer to Italy the Pope diverges from France. The Pope has refused to approve the prosecution of the Archbishop of Aix, and France has in some degree retaliated by making friendly overtures to Italy. The exceptional duties on Italian products are to be rescinded, and the discussions as to the delimitation of frontier in Africa are to be resumed. In the face of all this the Pope calls upon the Jesuit element for advice, which, in the view of well known churchmen means a reactionary policy.

VICTORIA WOODHULL'S HUSBAND.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Mr. K. Bidulph Martin proposes to stand as a Unionist candidate for Parliament from Middle Worcestershire. He will be opposed by Mr. Thomas E. Stevens. Mr. Martin is a wealthy banker, and husband of the noted American woman, named before her marriage to him, Victoria Woodhull. Mr. Martin is strictly in accord with the views of the present government.

CLERGY AND VOTERS.

CORK, Nov. 3.—Singular statements are advanced by the Parnellite leaders as to the intimidation of voters by the clergy. It is said that anathema has been threatened against electors who should dare to vote the Parnellite ticket, that men were told to drop the Parnellite cause under peril of being denied the rites of the church, and that women were appealed to by the priests to influence their husbands against the Parnellite cause. It is thought probable that in the event of an anti Parnellite victory on Friday Mr. Redmond will contest the election on the alleged ground of priestly intimidation and dictation. The Parnellites claim that but for the priests they could carry the district with ease, but the clergy spare no effort to prejudice people against the cause represented by Mr. Redmond.

DISQUIETING NEWS FROM CHILI.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A private dispatch received from Valparaiso says that the American cruiser Baltimore is in serious danger, and that there is reason to believe that the Chilians, believing war inevitable, will not allow the United States to select their own time to declare war, but will suddenly give Egan his passport and at once attack the Baltimore, so as to have the first blow at an advantage. It is not believed among the foreign residents of Valparaiso that the other foreign men-of-war there would permit a treacherous attack on Capt. Schley, but would demand that he be given fair notice to quit Valparaiso. Capt. Schley, however, is keeping a vigilant outlook, and means to take no chances. Those who know him say that he would not surrender under any circumstances. The Tory press continues to pour the vials of its wrath upon the United States in connection with Chili, the articles being apparently intended rather for consumption in Chili than in England or America, and being well calculated to puff that country with a great idea of Chili's capacity for defeating the Americans.

THE BOAT CAPSIZED.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A boat attached to the battle ship Howe, which contained a crew of 10 men, capsized at Portland. Four sailors were rescued but the others were drowned before assistance could reach them.

Wales Burnt Out.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Early this morning the top floor of the Prince of Wales' residence was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was promptly rung, and soon the greatest excitement prevailed. An hour later the whole upper part of the building was in flames and in a few minutes the roof collapsed with a tremendous crash. Reflection of the flames was visible several miles around. Several fire brigades arrived on the scene and were assisted by hundreds of volunteers, including an engine company sent by the Great Eastern Railway Company by special train. The second and third floors of the building were gutted and their contents destroyed. The lower rooms were greatly damaged by water. The total amount of the damage is estimated at £15,000. The Prince and family were absent at the time. It is supposed that the fire was caused by sparks from a flue, which smouldered during the night.

The Nitrate King's Interests.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The feeling on the subject of Chili remains very strong, especially among the commercial people interested there. The almost frantic talk of the London Times is explained by the statement that Colonel North, the nitrate king and friend of the Prince of Wales, owns an interest in that paper and has done so for a long time. North is anxious to prevent war and is using all his influence in that direction, so far as it can be brought to bear on the newspapers and similar channels. A prominent merchant wrote to-day that according to his private advices the alarmist news from Chili was unfortunately only too well founded, and that all parties in England who were interested would make no mistake in getting ready for the worst.

Cholera Claims Many Victims.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—The ravages of cholera in Damascus show an alarming increase. The record for the week past shows 180 cases and 90 deaths. Owing to the prevalence of cholera Hodeia is in nearly as bad a situation as Damascus, but at Aleppo the plague has subsided.

Mrs. Parnell's Illness.

DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—Dispatches from Brighton say that Mrs. Parnell is much weaker to-day, and Freeman's Journal says that unless a change for the better takes place within two days it fears the worst will happen.

Pugilist Slavin on a Spree.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Frank Slavin, pugilist, was arrested and fined 5 shillings for being drunk and disorderly Sunday morning, and for having, while in that condition, attempted to force his way into the Eldorado Club.

Quarantine Against Smallpox.

GIBRALTAR, Nov. 2.—Health authorities of this port have declared a quarantine against vessels arriving from Cadiz, on account of the outbreak of smallpox there.

Strike Unsuccessful.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The painters who struck recently have been replaced by non-union men.

Terrible Fight With Knives.

CITY OF GIACO, Mex., Nov. 2.—At a mining camp in San Pablo, near Buena Ventura, Coahula, there was a sanguinary battle recently between John F. Moulton, an American, and Antonio Ventura and Leonard Rodriguez, Mexicans. The Mexicans fell upon Moulton, knives in hand, and he defended himself with a dagger. At the conclusion of the fight Ventura was dead, Rodriguez had four dagger wounds in his body and Moulton was badly slashed.

Fighting for Their Homes.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—One of the most disastrous forest fires ever known in St. Louis county has been raging for the past few days in the western portion of the county. Thousands of dollars worth of valuable property has been destroyed, and unless there is rain within a few days the losses will reach an enormous figure. Many acres of wheat and timber have been destroyed. Farmers are fighting for their homes.

A Confederate Veteran Dead.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 2.—Colonel Samuel E. Chaflin, of New York, died here last night. He was instructor at West Point in the '50's and served in the confederate army during the war of the rebellion.

Death of a Prominent Mason.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 2.—Captain Frelon J. Babcock, county clerk of Marion county, died this morning. He was a prominent Mason, having once been grand secretary of the grand lodge of Oregon for several years.

FROM CHINA AND JAPAN.

THE EMPRESS OF JAPAN ARRIVES FROM THE ORIENT.

The Crew of the Wrecked Schooner Kitsap Arrives from Kobe—Latest News Items Clipped from the China and Japan Papers—Passenger List.

The C. P. R. steamship Empress of Japan arrived off the outer dock shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was boarded by the doctor, customs house officers, C.P.R. officials and members of the press. The Empress had on board for Victoria 110 Chinese passengers, four bags of mail and twelve white passengers. For Vancouver and other ports she had 55 Chinese, 28 saloon and 13 European steerage passengers. She had 2263 tons measurement, or 1121½ tons weight, in freight. After landing the Victoria mail and passengers she passed up to Vancouver. The saloon passengers were: Major Hanney, Lieut. H. C. Carr, R.N.R., Lieut. George Rogers, Lieut. and Mrs. F. H. England, J. M. Beattie, Dr. R. H. Campbell, Rev. W. W. Shaw, wife and children; R. Guerto, H. C. Piggott, H. Birkett, Rev. F. E. Freese and friend, Rev. J. B. Small, Colonel Adams, W. F. and F. W. Richardson, George Halpin, wife and aunt; Captain Gamble, Miss Coddick, H. Schwing, F. Lovell, V. Robertson, L. and A. Cowan, L. W. Hindmarch, the Misses Noll and W. H. Harrington.

A SHIPWRECKED CREW.

Among the 12 European passengers who landed here were Captain Tibbett and the crew of the schooner Kitsap, which was wrecked on Boredine Island on September 6th. The Kitsap, which belongs to Pope & Talbot, of San Francisco, was on her way from Port Gamble with a load of lumber for Shanghai. At midnight on Sept. 6th she struck the rocks and the crew had barely got into a small boat when she went to pieces. They reached Boredine, an uninhabited island, two miles long and one mile wide. Here the crew of 11 stayed for 17 days, short of water and rations. At the end of that time the captain and four of the men left and made their way to the Loo Choo Islands, a distance of 180 miles. There they obtained assistance, rescued their companions, who had been on the island for 27 days, and took a steamer for Kobe, where they obtained passage on the Empress for home. They hunted up the U.S. Consul last evening and will be sent home to Port Townsend by the City of Kingston this evening if the C. P. R. officials who contracted to land them there do not do so.

FROM THE EXCHANGES.

Files of the Japan Daily Advertiser up to Oct. 21st were received.

Steamship Empress of China arrived at Yokohama Oct. 20.

The U. S. flagship Charleston arrived at Kobe on the 14th October.

The Fukuryo Shimpo was suspended on the 10th instant upon the usual charge.

A telegram published by the Jiji reports a terribly severe earthquake at Nakatsu, Buzen, on the 17th inst.

The British naval squadron, with Admiral Richards, was to leave Ynensan for Nagasaki on the 17th instant.

We learn from the Kobe Herald that the Methodist Mission School buildings at Hiroshima were destroyed by fire on the 16th instant.

During the absence of Mr. Jas. Troup on two months leave, Mr. R. de B. Layard will be in charge of H. B. M.'s Consulate at Yokohama.

The Cabinet has fixed the sum to be granted by the government for the expenses of Japanese exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair at $630,000.

The Oshima Kan, a steel gunboat of 630 tons displacement, was most successfully launched from the Onohama Naval Yard, Kobe, on the 14th instant.

According to the Kobe Yushin Nippo the reason for the despatch of the Japanese man-of-war Tenro Kan to China is that there are fears of a riot at Tientsin.

A telegram has been received by the authorities, says the Hochi, to the effect that the Russian government will prohibit the export of oats from Russian ports from the 28th instant.

The Jiji reports that the Yokohama tea market is exceptionally dull. On the 10th inst. 15,000 pounds were received, only 8000 pounds were sold, and stocks amounted to 448,500 pounds.

The members of the Jiyuto party have resolved, the Chugwai Dempo states, to oppose the measure for the purchase of the private railways by the Government at the coming session of the Diet.

Mr. Otori, Minister for Japan at Peking, has, says the Jiji, telegraphed to his government the advisability of sending a man-of-war to China, and in consequence the Tenryo Kan, which is now at Kure, will be despatched in a few days.

A big fire occurred at Kobe on Monday, Oct. 12th, just outside the foreign settlement, in Sannomiya. The Hyogo News says the fire originated in the lamp-room of a small theatre through the accidental overturning of a kerosene lamp. Sixteen houses in all were consumed, including a jeweler's shop, a tea house and a hardware shop.

Here is a good instance, says the N. C. Daily News, of Chinese official sincerity. Just after the riot at Ichang the magistrate went alongside the Paohua—he was not allowed on board—and begged to be permitted to settle all claims on the spot. He then went back and telegraphed to the Viceroy that the foreigners had set fire to their houses themselves.

Some curious things pass through the post offices in the course of business, says the N. C. Daily News, but the postmaster of one of the Shanghai offices draws the line at corpses, for he recently received an application to take delivery of one and of the effects of the deceased. We give publicity to this so that the relatives may look after the interests of the deceased. We have heard of bodies being submitted to a post mortem but not to a post office.

The trial of the director and managers of the 7th National Bank of Kochi Prefecture has, according to the Nichi Nichi, been concluded. Mr. Yamanaka, who is described as the late officer of the Prefecture, was sentenced to six years, minor confinement, Mr. Yasuoka to three years' imprisonment with hard labor, while the director, Mr. Yuye, and the managers, Messrs. Nakagawa, Sakuragi, Yamoda, Komatsu and Kawasaki, got off with a fine, to what amount is not stated.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Foresters' Banquet—Customs Returns—Coal Export.

NANAIMO, Nov. 3. — The Ancient Order of Foresters gave their annual banquet last evening in the dining parlors of the Central Hotel, and nearly every member of the lodge was present. After the sumptuous repast had been done ample justice to, speeches were made, songs sung and toasts honored and a very enjoyable time spent. The event was brought to a close about 1 o'clock this morning.

OFFICIAL RETURNS.

Following are the official returns for the Nanaimo custom house for the month of October.

Customs duty	$6,223 56
Warehouse fees	20 00
Sick mariners dues	393 96
Miscellaneous	25
Total	$6,637 77

COAL EXPORTS.

The exports of coal (foreign) for the past month has shown a slight decline all round the different mines, and so far it shows no signs of improvement, although there are plenty of vessels in the harbor waiting to take cargoes. It is evident the companies are holding back for a more profitable market, as coal at the present time is said to be low in San Francisco. The following is the output of the different mines:

New V. C. Company	27,345
Wellington	28,149
East Wellington	1,900
Union	8,000
	$60,394

LITTLE EVENTS.

The basket social given in the Presbyterian church last evening was well attended and a most pleasant evening enjoyed.

A collection was taken at Northfield in aid of the hospital and the sum of $14.50 realized.

A Deadly Wire.

PANAMA, Nov. 1.—On Saturday a naked telephone wire was detached by some street arabs so that it hung from a support to the ground, trailing over a certain wire from the electric light plant. A police officer commenced to haul it in, and in the act of drawing caused it to cut through the rubber insulation around the electric light wire. The officer received a shock which rendered him unconscious. A great crowd gathered, and before the electric light company could be notified to shut off the current a horse hitched to a car was driven over the wire and killed. The cabman attempted to extricate his animal from the harness, thinking he had simply fallen, and was struck on the forehead by a swinging wire, which bit through the skull almost to the ears and there remained. The electric fluid literally filled the man's head, and in a minute his brains and eyes had been completely incinerated. The flesh and skin smoked and sizzled until they also were reduced almost to ashes. All this while the sparks played about the head in an awful shower, the eyes literally glowing and radiating.

Released the Convicts.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 2.—At one o'clock this morning 200 mounted men came in from the mountains and liberated 200 convicts working in the mines at Oliver Springs. So quietly was it done that people of the town knew nothing about what had happened until this morning, when they discovered the stockade to be a mass of smoking ruins. The short term prisoners were furnished with citizens' clothing, and with the exception of a few captured all are now at large. This makes more than 500 penitentiary convicts turned loose in that locality since Friday evening. The governor of the state was here yesterday, but left for Nashville this morning. It does not appear there was any resistance on the part of the guards, and nobody was hurt. The wildest rumors prevail, of which one is that the miners will immediately proceed to Tracy City and release the convicts there.

A Cemetery Blown up.

WHEELING, W.Va., Nov. 3.—News has just reached here from Coropolis, Pa., between here and Pittsburg, of a strange and terrible affair near that place to-day. The Allegheny Cemetery Co., a few months ago started to bore a gas well on its new cemetery property in Coropolis. Yesterday there was a terrific explosion at the well which caused a great upheaval of the earth in the vicinity. Hundreds of dead bodies in the cemetery were hurled from their resting places, and many costly monuments were shattered. Efforts have been made to keep the matter from becoming public, but the report comes from a reliable gentleman, formerly of Wheeling.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S TRIAL.

Her Case Taken Up in the Court of Appeals at London.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—In the Court of Appeals the Maybrick case was commenced to-day. Sir Charles Russell, beginning his argument, said the appeal raised a most important question. The plaintiffs for whom he appeared were executors of the late Mr. Maybrick, who had effected an insurance of $10,000 with defendant insurance company in favor of his wife, Mrs. Florence Maybrick, now confined in the Woking jail. The defendant's counsel had paid an account of $1000 of the amount claimed, but they refused to pay the remainder. In support of this refusal he said the defendant submitted that the conviction of Mrs. Maybrick was not conclusive. Continuing, Sir Charles said, on the contrary, plaintiffs submitted the fact that the sentence commuted was not evidence of innocence. The question is on the claim whether Mr. Maybrick effected a policy in favor of his wife, and whether, assuming that he died at her hands, this is any answer to the executors' claims.

The ex-attorney general then proceeded to cite authorities in favor of his contention. The present appeal grew out of a judgment given July 20 last, in an action brought in the interest of Mrs. Maybrick against the insurance association to recover $10,000 insurance upon her husband's life. The court then decided that, as Mrs. Maybrick had been convicted of having murdered her husband, she could not recover the amount for which his life had been insured, as his death was caused by the person for whose benefit the action was brought. The day after the judgment was rendered, high legal authority made an assertion that the insurance company's refusal to pay Mrs Maybrick insurance on her husband's life, on the ground that death was caused by her, would enable the convicted woman to bring out in a civil action the facts traversed in the murder trial, since she could compel the insurance company to prove she murdered her husband. This high legal authority was said to have based his opinion on the fact that according to English law conviction is no proof between other parties, but only between the prosecution and the prisoner.

THE MEN OF CORK.

Many Broken Heads—Lively Times on Sunday—Vituperative Healy.

CORK, Nov. 2.—As showing the seriousness of the outbreaks here recently it may be stated that no fewer than 325 cases were treated in the different hospitals of this city during the election riots.

The town was kept lively yesterday by the activity of the political factions, but there was less disorder than on most of the previous days of the campaign. Several melees took place and the police had their hands full in guarding the numerous meetings that were held. The principal anti-Parnellite meeting, addressed by Mr. O'Brien, was attacked by a strong force of Parnellites, in spite of the presence of a large police guard. A mutual exchange of courtesies, in the shape of stones and other missiles, was kept up by the members of the opposing parties, but it was noticeable that so far as possible the combatants avoided hitting the officers of the law. Dozens of broken heads were mended at the hospital to-night, but so far as reported no more serious results of the day's hostilities occurred.

Earlier in the day an attack was made on a band of musicians on O'Connell street. The instruments of the musicians were smashed and a number of persons injured. The Parnellites marched in the procession, the American flag and portrait of Parnell being carried at the head of their line. Mr. Redmond, the Parnellite parliamentary candidate, in a speech declared it was impossible for Dillon and O'Brien to be independent. Gladstone was their master in England and Tim Healy their master in Ireland. During the meeting Mr. Redmond was presented with an enormous shillalah. Both meetings were largely attended, and much rowdyism was manifested at various times by roughs, who even attacked women and children.

A noticeable feature of the day was the absence of political harangues from the Catholic pulpits. Hardly a priest referred to the campaign. It is stated that this was due to the intervention of Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon, who urged the priests to drop the political features from their exhortations, owing to the growth of public feeling against what is coming to be looked on as a grave scandal and threatens to prove a boomerang for the anti-Parnellites.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—In an address at Longford yesterday, Timothy Healy was more vituperative than ever. He accuses the Parnellites of cowardice. The Parnellites, he said, talked of English dictation and resorted to dynamite. Healy imputed to the Parnellites the dynamite explosion which took place in Glasgow some time ago, creating a great excitement. He condemned what they called "the alliance of the Parnellites with Mrs. O'Shea." He said he was astonished that they should unite with an English prostitute who had ruined a member of Parliament. He also said he did not refer to the unhappy woman, meaning Parnell's sister, whom the Dublin wire pullers had induced to write to Paris. Healy advised unity in combating the landlords. At present, he said, the Parnellites tried to make up for brains with blackthorns.

CORK, Nov. 2.—The two factions had a serious struggle yesterday outside of Cork, where there were no police to interfere. The Parnellites came out ahead. In the struggle houses were wrecked and many persons injured and a good deal of blood shed, although no fatalities are reported.

William Redmond announced at a meeting yesterday that he had challenged Dr. Tanner to fight, but that he had declined.

The Examiner (Liberal), this morning appeals to Michael Davitt to settle the unfortunate dispute which distracts the Irish National party.

Could Not Murder.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Ramon Estuvillo, a native Chilian, at the Palmer house to-day said, "that people of Spanish blood are pretty much alike, and I think I understand the Chilian situation better than any man of English descent naturally would. The Chilians hate Americans, not on account of the Itata incident or any recent occurrence. Those incidents merely aggravated the feeling dated as far back as the discovery of gold in California. There was a great demand for provisions in San Francisco then, California not being the great wheat producing state it is to-day, and flour was imported from Chili in large quantities. This brought San Francisco and Valparaiso into close communication, and thousands of Chilians went to the newly discovered gold fields. It was just after the Mexican war, as a result of which there was a bitter feeling. The natives looked upon us as intruders, numbers of the natives became outlaws, and many murders and robberies were committed, while a number of Chilians were murdered and robbed by American miners, and race hostilities became so intense that many Chilian miners returned to their own land. They took with them the story of their inhospitable reception, and the nation has smarted under what it has deemed a wrong to its subjects ever since. The average Chilian hates the American bitterly, and this is one reason for it.

A Misplaced Switch.

NEEDLES, Cal., Nov. 2.—The eastbound train struck a misplaced switch at the end of the Franconia yard yesterday, and the engine and one car were overturned and ditched. The engine was hurled to one side and fell, burying smokestack and dome inside of the cut. Fireman Charles Johnson fell under the boiler-head and was pinned there by heavy timbers and machinery, while the escaping steam cooked his limbs and a part of his body for nearly three hours. Engineer George Cook was thrown through the cab window, but landed miraculously without a scratch. It is believed Johnson cannot recover.

A NEW KIND OF INSURANCE

For 50 cents you can insure yourself and family against any bad results from cold, coughs, whooping cough and croup during the changeable weather. One or two doses of Braden's Cough Cure will convince you that it is one of the few cough remedies worthy of standing in the front ranks to fight these dangerous foes.

D. E. CAMPBELL,
Proprietor and Manufacturer.

25 cents will insure you against any bad result from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer. One or two doses of DR. FELLOWS' CORDIAL OF BLACKBERRY AND JAMAICA GINGER will cure any ordinary case. It never fails, and is pleasant and safe to take. No one can afford to travel without it.—D. E. CANADIAN NOTES

Recent Events Reported From the Eastern Provinces.

S. E. Dawson, the new Queen's printer, begins his duties at Ottawa today.

Baron de Giers, state geologist of Sweden, is here on a tour through Canada.

Sir George Baden-Powell has gone from Ottawa to Washington on private business.

There are three more cases of smallpox at Lorette, Que., in the same house as the one previously reported.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell will be back to Ottawa from a tour over the Intercolonial at the end of the week.

Premier Abbott has leased the house on Victoria street, Ottawa, formerly occupied by Hon. A. Mackenzie and Sir Charles Tupper.

The court at Quebec has given an order to return the Connollys' books to the Government. The Connollys appeal from the judgment.

At Midland, Ont., four boys, between 12 and 15 years old, named John Clarkson, Peter Hughes, Lee Johnston and William Alliston, were drowned on Sunday through the upsetting of a sailboat in a squall.

It is learned from Montreal that a deputation of the Duluth City Council and Board of Trade will visit that city early in December. The object of the visit is to extend the trade between Duluth and Canada.

Burglaries are becoming alarmingly frequent in this part of Ontario, declares the Owen Sound Times, which adds: One can scarcely pick up a single local exchange without running across an account of some housebreaking.

It appears as if there is to be no argument of counsel before the Royal Commission at Quebec, the counsel for the prosecution having a neatly drawn up factum which has been printed in Montreal, and was brought down by last night's train.

It is asserted that, owing to poor health, Hon. Mr. Robidoux, Attorney-General of Quebec, has decided to retire from public life, and has handed in his resignation to Premier Mercier. He will take a trip either to Europe or to Florida.

The nominations for the Northwest Legislature took place on Saturday, and the polling will be held next Saturday. Elections by acclamation were as follows:—Calgary, Cayley and Lineham; Moosomin, Neff; MacLeod, Haultain; Lethbridge, Conybeare; Edmonton, Oliver.

The new building of the St. Thomas Journal is a handsome one. Stone foundation and trimmings, brick superstructure. Indeed the front and main entrance is of very handsome stone work, and the whole premises give the appearance of stability and prosperity.

The Venerable Archdeacon Reeve, who is to be consecrated in Winnipeg as missionary Bishop of Mackenzie River, preached in Holy Trinity Church, Toronto, Sunday morning, and in the evening in St. James' Cathedral. He appealed for assistance in support of the missions to the benighted Indians and Esquimaux in the far north.

The Trappist monks, who have a large establishment at Oka, near Montreal, have received an offer from Abbe Ritchot, of St. Norbert, Man., of 1000 acres of good land on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway at a distance of only eight or nine miles from Winnipeg, and it is expected that a colony will be established there next year.

A cablegram has been received in Montreal, announcing the death of David Davidson, formerly well known in Canadian business circles. Deceased came to Canada in 1843, and was manager of the Bank of British North America until 1853, when he became general manager of the Bank of Montreal, which position he held for ten years.

The value of exports from the Sherbrooke consular district to the United States for the quarter ending with September was $337,237, as against $278,464 for the same period in 1890. The principal items were: Animals, $47,781; hemlock bark, $2791; lumber, $130,536; logs, $13,902; produce and provisions, $7846; product of mines, $117,874; pulp chemical, $12,285.

Campbellford station was a busy place last Tuesday. On that day the dairymen of Seymour loaded 100,000 pounds of cheese for shipment to Belleville, and thence to Montreal. A cattle-dealer boarded two carloads of hogs and cattle for the eastern market. The Northumberland Paper Mills shipped three carloads of paper. Grain buyers made three carloads more of freight; and seven cars of lumber and ties from the Rathbun mill were sent off for the Grand trunk double track.

Prevention is Better

Than cure, and those who are subject to rheumatism can prevent attacks by keeping the blood pure and free from the acid which causes the disease. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is used by thousands with great success. It is the best blood purifier.

Constipation is caused by loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore this action and invigorate the liver.

A Severe Attack.

DEAR SIRS,—My children were taken ill with ulcerated sore throats bordering on diphtheria. I had nothing in the house but Hagyard's Yellow Oil, which I used with great benefit. I am sure if it had not been for it the disease would have developed into diphtheria. It is a splendid medicine. MRS. E. Cameron, Moore's Falls, Ont.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The United States and Chili.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Secretary Tracey this evening made public the instructions sent last spring to Admiral Brown, commanding the Pacific Squadron at the beginning of the Chilian disturbance. "These instructions," Secretary Tracey says, "have been rigorously adhered to throughout. In no single instance have they been departed from. They prove conclusively that the charges of partiality made by the English newspapers are untruths, and that they have been invented in order to prejudice the Chilians against the United States for commercial puposes." The following is the proclamation of neutrality issued by Admiral Brown:

U.S.S. Pensacola, Talcuhuano, Feb. 22, 1891.

The commander-in-chief cautions and enjoins the officers and enlisted men of the United States naval force on the west coast of South America to abstain from discussing or criticising the present unfortunate state of affairs in Chili, and in no way to express their sentiments or opinions either favorable or unfavorable to either side. While it becomes our duty to maintain the strictest neutrality in all our relations, it is also to our interests and to the credit of the service and our government to refrain from any expressions that can possibly be construed as an offence by either party. Officers and enlisted men are therefore ordered to be most guarded and careful in their conversations in relation to the condition of affairs in that country with any person outside of the U.S. Navy. (Signed) W. H. McCANN, Rear Admiral, U.S. Naval Force, South Pacific stations.

Cable to Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The U. S. Fish Commissioners' steamer Albatross will leave next Wednesday to survey the route for the proposed cable between the United States and Hawaii. Already 840 mile of the route have been surveyed, but 100 miles of it were found very uneven, so another survey will be held to see if a better route cannot be found. The work is being done carefully and systematically. If no great difficulties be met with the survey will be completed in three weeks.

The Czar of Russia.

The Czar of Russia probably has his own troubles as well as we commoner mortals. Where we have the advantage in such troubles as dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, bad blood and the like is in being able to procure easily a perfect remedy in Burdock Blood Bitters, nature's grand restorative tonic and purifier.

Her Face Her Fortune,

Is commonly said of famous beauties. She who uses with artistic taste Wisdom's Famous Robertine has fortune in the possessing of a complexion to which nothing but the blush of the rose or the freshness of the lily can be compared. This preparation is just what it is claimed to be—the most delightful toilet article and only perfect beautifier known. Read the testimonials from famous artists, celebrated chemists and eminent physicians. D. E. Campbell, agent.

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs of either sex.

I HAVE GAINED STRENGTH!

"I could have reported a month or two sooner, but I wanted to see if the cure was permanent, and can safely say that I believe it is. I weigh fifteen pounds more than I did when I commenced. I have gained strength and that general enervation has disappeared. I will always remember you as my benefactor."

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Mr. Jessop, who was appointed a member of the School Board by the Government, has resigned, and Mr. William McKay has been appointed in his place. The Colonist in making the announcement takes the trouble to inform the public that the appointment of Mr. McKay "is certain to give satisfaction, as the new trustee is possessed of a vigorous and well balanced mind, and a conscientious regard for right." Mr. Jessop will no doubt be pleased with this verdict, since it plainly implies that the Colonist—which speaks for the Government—believes that he has neither "a vigorous and well balanced mind" nor "a conscientious regard for right." He may, however, console himself with the reflection that other men have got much worse than this from contact with the Robson Government, and that it is a fashion with said Government to affect to regard all men who differ from it as wanting in intelligence and honesty. Mr. Jessop may also take blame to himself in that he accepted an appointment as trustee from the Government with a wrong idea as to what was expected from him. He seems to have labored under the mistaken impression that while holding the office he would be at liberty to exercise his own judgment in dealing with school matters. This is shown in the report of an interview with him published in the Colonist. He said:—

People are wondering why I take my present stand, while I am a nominee of the Government. I don't care 10 cents for the Government. I took the position of school trustee with the intention of using my brains and my own discretion on any subject that came up. If the Government don't like me they know what to do. They can tell me to go, and I'll only be too glad to step down and throw up the whole business.

The idea of a man going on the School Board, or any other board, as the representative of the Robson Government and being at liberty to use his own brains and his own discretion, is too absurd. Mr. Jessop ought to have known that it was the Robson brain and the Robson discretion that he was intended to use. His failure to appreciate that fact quite deserves for him the appellation of "illiterate person" which the honest Premier has bestowed on him. It will be noted that the latter divided his opponents on the School Board into "illiterate persons" and "inexperienced youths," and Mr. Jessop cannot suppose that the honorable gentleman meant to place him in the latter class. Mr. Jessop's experience and education have no doubt been much improved by his career as a trustee under the ægis of the great John Robson.

The mistake of Mr. Jessop seems to have been the mistake of the majority of the trustees. They have erroneously supposed that the board was constituted for the purpose of administering the city's school affairs, whereas the youngest boy in any of the schools could have told them that the board was formed simply to carry out the directions of the Council of Public Instruction, alias the Robson Government. We have it on the authority of the Premier himself that—

"The Council of Public Instruction is composed of the Government, who have the advantage of the knowledge and advice of the most experienced educationists in the Province, and it is absurd to suppose that the average school trustee, especially when he happens to be an illiterate person or an inexperienced youth, should be better qualified to administer the internal affairs of the schools than the Council itself."

The majority of the Board had better get down from their high horses and prove that they are not "illiterate persons" or "inexperienced youths" by taking their proper places as machines for the registering of Robson decrees in regard to the internal management of the schools. Let them see to it that they fit themselves into their proper places, as per the Robsonian idea, at to-night's meeting. We may go further, and recommend to their attention the utterance of a sapient gentleman named Veritas, who wrote as follows in the Colonist the other day:—

The School Act is a masterpiece of liberal consideration for the present and coming generations. Its terms are carefully carried out by the efficient and affable Dr. Pope, and, with the majority, I agree in suggesting immediate steps to have the few incorrigible trustees removed—their places supplied by educated men, of better breeding, or request the abolition of trustees altogether, and the system carried out by the Minister of Education, with the General Superintendent as resident commissioner, having a staff sufficient for the many duties. This would dispense with the educated ex-Superintendent Jessop, and give him more time for "running" his personal affairs.

That is the "right kind of talk." The School Act is indeed a "masterpiece," and if the School Board does not recognize it as such, let it be made more of a masterpiece and have it amended so as to wipe out the Victoria Board of Trustees altogether, and put our school interests entirely in the hands of Minister of Education Robson and General Superintendent Pope, "with power to add to their numbers." We believe that the exercise of the latter power would not be necessary, since with Mr. Robson supplying the honesty and Dr. Pope the ability, the outfit would be practically complete. Thus would the wayward School Board be done away with and the learning and experience of John Robson and his henchmen would have free scope. To those who know the depth and breadth of the Premier's love for Victoria the scheme must commend itself mightily.

THE STATE ELECTIONS.

Elections are taking place to-day in several states of the Union. The most important of these are in Ohio, New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, the other contests bearing less directly on national issues and being in most cases decided in advance.

In Ohio the governor and other state officers and the Legislature are to be elected, and the contest in that state has the most interest for Canadians, since there McKinleyism is the great issue and McKinley himself is the Republican candidate for governor. Unfortunately the tariff issue has to a considerable extent been mixed up with the silver question, as some of the Democratic leaders have insisted more strongly on what is called free silver than on freedom of trade. This has given alarm to some of the more conservative members of the party, who see in unlimited coinage of silver a dangerous disturber of the national economy. Governor Campbell's chances of defeating McKinley have thus been seriously lessened. The Democrats have strong hopes of carrying the Legislature and thus securing a Democratic successor to Senator John Sherman, their hopes being largely based on the division of the Republican ranks caused by the efforts of ex-Governor Foraker to secure for himself the succession to Sherman. Foraker's partisans are numerous and are causing serious trouble in the party. Canadians will look with more interest on the outcome of the Governorship contest, which on the eve of election seemed likely to favor Major McKinley. Ohio to-day also votes on a proposed amendment to the constitution providing for uniformity of taxation.

New York elects a governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney-general, engineer and surveyor, the senate, the assembly, ten justices of the supreme court, and a representative in congress from the tenth district. The choice of a governor in New York State to-day is supposed to give some indication as to the result of the presidential election next year. The chances are said to be in favor of Roswell P. Flower, the Democratic candidate, but the Republicans have been making a bitter fight, and were not without hope of success. At this election the "Mugwumps" have been largely with them, looking on Flower as peculiarly representative of Tammany, so if Fassett is elected the power of the great New York Democratic organization will be shaken and the Republicans will be hopeful for next year.

In Massachusetts a governor and other State officers and a legislature are to be elected. In that State the McKinley tariff is a leading issue, though somewhat complicated by personal and other considerations. Governor Russell, the Democratic candidate, is personally popular and chances were held to be in the Democrats' favor. In Pennsylvania the question is chiefly one of rebellion against the Republican machine, which has inflicted on the party such men as Delamater and Quay. Pattison's election as governor last year was the result of a revolution against "bossism" among the Republicans, and to-day's contest was expected to show a continuation of the movement. Only a treasurer and an auditor-general are to be elected in Pennsylvania, but a vote is also to be taken on the question whether a constitutional convention shall be held.

In other states the elections are as follows: Iowa elects a governor, other state officers and members of the legislature. Mississippi elects three railroad commissioners and legislature. Nebraska elects an associate justice of the supreme court and two regents of the state university. New Jersey elects part of the senate and the assembly. Virginia will elect one-half of its senate and its house of delegates. Maryland elects a governor, other state officers and members of the legislature, and votes upon several amendments to its constitution.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

TO THE EDITOR.—I learn that on account of Trustee Jessop's manly course for condemning the Public School Act, has brought on himself the condemnation of the Government.

Following the methods adopted by the Government at James Bay, would it not be in order for our city aldermen to ask Chairman Haywood to resign his position of the school board?

It seems the chairman's views of the School Act have been very much modified within the last few weeks, and no doubt when he was nominated by the city council it was generally supposed he would act in the best interests of education and not follow the Government like a lamb as he has done in the past. CITIZEN.

THE POULTRY AT THE FAIR.

TO THE EDITOR:—"Citizen" says that he was greatly amused at my letter in the TIMES singing the praises of the birds that did not win against Dr. Milne's, about which I was dumb. In the first place the judge praised Dr. Milne's birds, and what need had I to do so? But I must be pointed, and say that the judge went back on his own theory, more particularly in the partridge Cochins. I, as a novice, am at a loss to know where or how he took his points. If he wanted the Cochin outline in symmetry and as to pencilling there were birds in the showroom that were far better, in my opinion, than the birds that obtained the first prize. I am alluding to the adult birds. It appeared to me that he took no notice of the pencilling whatever. As to the young stock there were some very good ones, but I must say not up to 95 points, as some of the exhibitors say they had at last December's show, and scored by a competent judge, but a bird that can score 95 points is nearly perfection, and birds to score 85 want some beating; they are not picked up every day on the Pacific coast. Now as to the second part, I do not doubt but the society got a judge whom they supposed to be a good one, but on looking through the pens I saw at least from 8 to 12 birds that ought to, by the American standard of perfection, have been disqualified, and I have in my possession the names of the exhibitors and the birds that ought to have been disqualified though they actually won prizes. So much for the judge, which can be published if Citizen doubts it, but at the same time it would appear better to have a stranger to judge than home talent so as to exclude suspicion if possible. In the next place, as to the exhibitors showing bad taste and jealousy, no doubt some of the visitors were better up in poultry than the judge was, for as each one has his or her own fancy in a particular breed they try to work themselves up in that fancy and consequently they know the value of the points in their birds quite as well or rather better that an inferior judge. Of course a great many of the birds looked worse than they would otherwise have done owing to their moulting, and of course it was impossible to score them. Hoping this will bring some more good stock into Victoria for the next exhibition, as it costs no more to keep good than inferior, only all have not got it at their command to have good stock as it runs high in price. I am, etc., GEORGE KING, Sr.
Esquimalt Road.

CALLER HADDIES.

TO THE EDITOR.—Scotland rejoices in the possession of a valuable class of fish called haddock and whiting. These fish appear in such shoals as to cover a tract of many miles near the shore, and furnish an article of diet of which one never gets tired. The common length or size is about twelve inches.

The haddock has a brown back and silvery belly, and on each side a black spot superstitiously believed to be the points of the finger and thumb of Saint Peter, when he took the tribute money from its mouth. In Aberdeenshire they are cured and smoked and sold throughout Scotland and England under the name of "Finnan Haddies." They form a commodity of considerable commercial value, and hundreds of families are comfortably maintained by their production and sale. If haddocks could be introduced into the sea around Victoria, and become acclimatised, they would soon become of vast importance to our city and Vancouver Island. If haddock and whiting could be added to the fish we already have, I would have no fears of our crofter colonization not being a complete success, but in present circumstances I could not recommend any of the Scottish east coast fishermen to make a change.

Would the editor kindly say if anything has been done by the Provincial Government, or any party, to introduce these fish into our waters. If not an opportunity is furnished to our wealthy lovers of the people to make the experiment and earn for themselves a memorable name and a good degree.

AN EAST COASTMAN.

[No movement to introduce these fish has been made so far.—ED. TIMES.]

HON. JOHN ROBSON'S ADVISERS.

TO THE EDITOR:—It may be interesting to the public to know a few facts concerning the advisers of the Premier on school matters.

(1) The Attorney-General—John Robson stated to the Legislature last session that his Attorney-General was telling them what was untrue, and what he (the Attorney-General) knew was untrue, and when it was denied, he (John Robson) neither retracted nor apologized. A nice example for the school children surely?

(2) The Superintendent of Education—John Robson gave false information to the Legislature about February, 1889, concerning the Victoria teachers, and afterwards admitted making the statements to a church court, but said that he had made them on the authority of his superintendent. The said superintendent with respect to his speeches examinations said on oath, "I have frequently carefully studied what words could use on such occasions in order avoid falsehood." The said superintendent introduced as evidence a copy of telegram containing eleven words more than the party received. A nice example for the school children surely?

(3) The Inspector of Schools—The gentleman made a voluntary statement on oath, which the Robson Government dare not print in their report; but put four asterisks in place of it. A nice example for the school children surely?

Then John Robson himself put his name to a letter to the New Westminster Council which appeared in the Columbian of 26th June, 1889, which contains statements that are not true. A nice example for the school children surely?

What could be expected other than that an independent, honorable and educated gentleman like Mr. Jessop should resign the school trusteeship when he was required to represent such a crowd? J. N. MUIR.

The Royal Commission.

In the legal representation of the sitting of the Royal Commission yesterday, Hon. Theodore Davie did not appear for either side. He was there merely as a spectator.

Against the Game Law.

Seattle is a good market for pheasants, and the other morning a Victorian took 20 of the birds over to the Sound city to sell them. This is against the law, and if a conviction is made a heavy fine would be the result.

The Victoria, Saanich & N. W. Railway.

There will be a special meeting of the city council this evening to consider the proposition made by Hon. Amor De Cosmos with reference to the Victoria, Saanich and New Westminster Railway as outlined in last Thursday's issue.

Provincial Medical Council.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Medical Council for the examination of candidates to practice in British Columbia opened to-day in New Westminster. Dr. Milne, registrar and secretary, with several other medical gentlemen, went up this morning to attend the examinations.

Something Much Wanted.

Mr. J. H. Brownlee's preliminary map of British Columbia is about ready, and proves to be what was much wanted in this Province—a thoroughly reliable map, carefully compiled from the best sources of information and surveys. It will be a little while yet before the map is circulated among the public.

Got Half the Penalty.

H. A. Haven was charged in the Provincial Police Court this afternoon with stealing a shot gun and rifle, the property of his late employer, Mr. Snider. Haven was guilty of another charge, that of ingratitude, which, however, was not preferred. Mr. Johnson, S.M., sentenced the accused to six months hard labor, being half the penalty which could be imposed in this case.

Broke His Hand.

Street Commissioner Lynn appears this morning with his hand in a sling. He was bringing in his horse when the animal turned restive and broke loose once or twice. Mr. Lynn secured him eventually and as he was leading the animal along a sudden jerk tightened the halter rope which was wound round Mr. Lynn's hand, the force smashing several bones in the left hand.

The Sussex Arrives.

The Upton line steamship Sussex arrived at the Outer dock early this morning with a large cargo of freight for Victoria and other ports. It consists of 1800 tons, 200 tons of which is for Victoria merchants and which will be landed here before she proceeds to Portland. She had 70 passengers, 59 Chinese and 11 Japs. Fifty-six of the Chinese were landed here.

Regular Monthly Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Victoria Athletic Club was held last evening when thirteen new members were elected making the total membership 211. The band committee reported that the band was progressing it now being composed of eighteen pieces. After a discussion upon the advisability of holding an exhibition in March the meeting adjourned.

All respectable grocers in the city have got O'kell & Morris' jams. Ask for them.

The Admiral's Guests.

Rear Admiral Hotham yesterday entertained His Worship the Mayor and a number of other gentlemen at lunch on board the Warspite. The Admiral then announced that the Warspite would leave Esquimalt on the 12th inst., and the news met with many expressions of regret from those present. It is likely that a farewell ball will be given to the ship's officers before leaving this port.

A Broken Down Trough.

The public water trough at the corner of Wharf and Yates streets has become a total wreck, and lies useless and empty on its side, while from the broken pipe spouts forth the limpid stream which in times gone by served to slake the thirst of the hard working dray horses. The proper civic officials will no doubt see to it that this very useful article is again put into a fit and proper condition for use.

Oddfellowship.

Loyal Fernwood lodge held its usually crowded meeting on Friday night last, at which another ten candidates were initiated. They find it necessary to hold weekly meetings, and watch with pleasure the rapid progress made by the contractor in building their commodious hall, as the one they meet in now is far too small for their purposes. A number of visitors were present from the sister lodges and ably assisted in the working of the lodge.

A New Steamboat Company.

The Seattle & Tacoma Navigation Company has been incorporated on the Sound by Henry Carstens, Claud Troup and F. W. Goodhue. They control the steamers Greyhound and Monte Cristo, and will build other steamers on the Sound. Harry Carstens is well known in Victoria and British Columbia, having been purser on the steamer Olympian for many years, and later on the Kootenay lakes. Claud Troup is a brother of the Union Pacific General Manager and Mr. Goodhue is the cashier of a Seattle bank.

At St. James' Church.

Mr. Chas. S. Baxter, the general passenger agent of the C.P.N. company, was married in St. James' church last evening to Miss Elinor M., eldest daughter of the late John Carmichael, formerly manager of the Dominion Government telegraph office. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven in the presence of many friends of the bride and groom. Mr. Geo. McFarlane, of Vancouver, supported the bride, and Miss Annie Carmichael acted as bridesmaid. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents, among them a handsome fish knife and fork and several pieces of hand painted china from the teachers of the public school, with whom the bride had been associated as one of their number for many years. The bride's late pupils also sent several pretty presents. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter left by the Kingston last evening for Portland, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Dominion Voters' List.

Mr. Edwin Johnson, the Revising Officer, writes as follows to the Colonist: "Your announcement of the Court of Final Revision contains an error which it is desirable to correct. The revision for the city will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday, the first of December, at 2 p.m., and for the district outside of the city at Howard's Hotel, Esquimalt, on Thursday, the 3rd of December, at 11 a.m. Reference is here made to the city limits as they existed before the recent extension. On or immediately after final revision I intend to make a new division of the electoral district into polling divisions, in accordance with the present municipal boundaries and population. Will you let me remind applicants that it is useless to write letters to the Revising Officer; they must send in and prove their claims, in conformity with the provisions of the Electoral Franchise Act, a copy of which is kept for public inspection at my office (Mr. C. Dubois Mason's office), Bastion Square." It may be well to repeat that notices of appeal for additions and corrections are to be delivered to Mr. Johnson by the 17th inst.

Pacific Ocean Sailors' Union.

Mr. H. Beckley is here in the interests of the Pacific Ocean Sailors' Union, a branch of which he will establish here. This is now a very strong and growing institution, its influence extending to all the big shipping ports of the coast. Already there are branches in Seattle, Port Townsend, Portland, Eureka, San Francisco, San Pedro and San Diego. These branches are governed from San Francisco, the headquarters. The idea in forming a branch here is to centralize the work in British Columbia and protect the interest of sailors running out of this port. It is not the intention, nor has it been the practice, of the union to antagonize vessel owners and sailors, rather the contrary; and it is expected that the branch here will have the effect of bringing about harmony between these two elements in many cases. The branch will be a sort of court for the friendly settlement of differences between employer and employed, to ship sailors and to help stranded brothers. The office was opened to day at 6 Bastion square, and is in charge of Mr. Beckley.

Dutiable Mail Matter.

As everyone knows, any mail matter of a dutiable nature has first to go through the custom house, and is then held there subject to the payment of duty, the parties to whom this matter is addressed being notified by the appraiser of the fact that such matter is at the appraiser's office. It has always been usual for an officer to go to the postoffice on the arrival of the mail and sort out the dutiable matter, which was then listed by the postoffice people and transferred by them to the appraiser's office, a receipt for it being given. A few days ago some minor change was made in the modus of the business by some of the postoffice people, the chief difference being that the customs officer was asked to receive the whole lot in bulk without listing, and that the matter should be taken to the appraiser's office by the customs officials. This was objected to by Collector Milne, as he held that private mail matter must be very carefully handled, and the packages kept listed, so that if one of them went astray it could be at once traced. He met Postmaster Shakespeare, and the latter at once had the matter set straight, and the former system prevails, no clash or difficulty having occurred between the two departments.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

"The Burglar" Last Night by the Grismer-Davies Co.—"Beacon Lights" To-Night.

"The Burglar," the play selected by the Grismer-Davies Co. last night, is a piece containing much merit in many instances, but taken as a whole the idea does not teem with originality. Its attractiveness rests chiefly in the good acting of the principals engaged in it, and had it been handled by less capable actors last night it would have fallen flat in more than one passage. Indeed it was often by a supreme effort only that certain places were tided over. The "Burglar" is a young man of good family connections and daring, reckless spirit, loving danger and adventure for the excitement it offers. Falling in with a gang of rough characters he becomes, so to speak, their honorary leader, sharing the risk but not the spoils of their dangerous exploits. Woman crosses his path in the daughter of a retired merchant, Mr Hamilton, and Wm. Lewis, the burglar, is converted from the wickedness of his ways. In a weak moment, though, after marriage, he consents to assist his old associates, and the false step so made marks his downfall. He flees from justice; his wife is told that he is dead; but in the meantime the shame of disgrace makes him fear to face her and he obtains a divorce. No proof of his being alive is forthcoming, so that the wife marries again. William meantime pursues his old avocation, but this time as a professional burglar, and in the course of his ramblings burglarizes his former wife's house. In the dead of night, as he is preparing to go to work in the room containing the family plate, his little 8-year-old daughter confronts him; and a scene of beautiful contrast is shown in the sweet, child-like innocency of the little one and the shaggy, but not ungentle or unaffectionate manner of the man she little knows is her own father. He is discovered, a lot of hurried explanations ensue, and he dies, though the cause of his death is not very plain.

Mr. Grismer fills this part very ably, throwing into it a great deal of courage and cool daring. Miss Davies, his wife, is very pleasant and interesting, and Missie Laura Crews is a bewitching little bundle of chubbiness, pinkness and affection. Mr. Arthur Livingston, as the law student, is almost funny enough to be original; in fact he is the sustaining part in passages where collapse promises. Mr. Livingston won well deserved laurels. The rest of the company performed their several roles conscientiously and well.

Of the music last evening, and in fact all evenings, what can be said in praise? Nothing. A cornet blowing gently like a bull in distress, or a fiddle out of tune, does not lend solemnity to tragedy. A revolution, not merely a reformation, is needed in the orchestral accompaniments to plays in the Victoria lately.

The company will give "Beacon Lights" to-night, a play said to possess stronger interest than that last evening.

FREDERIC ARCHER.

Although we have many fine resident organists, Mr. Archer's unique and wonderful manipulation of the instrument proved a revelation to a crowded audience, which included all our leading musical lights. * * He received a worthily earned ovation at the conclusion of his task.—Irish Times; Dublin. Mr. Archer will play at St. John's church Monday evening next.

THE GALLEY SLAVE.

This piece was rendered to a large audience last evening in the Philharmonic hall by the Imperial Stock Co. The company is a strong one, and possesses some good performers. To-night a complete change of programme will be given.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.

(Before His Lordship the Chief Justice.)

Re Ellamas—This was an application to make rule absolute for a writ of habeas corpus. It appears that Mr. Pidcock, the Indian agent had committed the prisoner to three months' imprisonment for an infraction of the Indian act and also to a months' imprisonment for an assault on a constable at Alert Bay.

Mr. S. Perry Mills moved for a discharge of the prisoner on the grounds that the two committments were bad in law. Mr. Barton, D.A.G., showed cause to the contrary.

His Lordship the Chief Justice held the two committments bad and discharged the prisoner.

RECESSION OF NIAGARA.

Interesting Figures From the Report of the State Engineer.

In the just published report of the state engineer and surveyor is given the result of last year's survey of the crest of Niagara falls. It was made by Mr. August S. Kibbe, assistant engineer. Comparison with the surveys of 1842, 1875 and 1886 is made in tabulated form. "The general result of the comparison," says Mr. Kibbe, between the lines of 1842 and 1890 is, in my opinion, a substantially correct record of the mean annual recession. It shows that at the American falls there has been a mean recession of 0.64-100 feet (7 68-100 inches) yearly for forty-eight years, and at the Horseshoe falls a mean recession of 2 18-100 feet (2 feet 2-16-100 inches) yearly for forty-eight years.

"The American falls show a mean total of 30 75-100 feet in 48 years. The Horseshoe falls show a mean total recession of 104 51-100 in 48 years. The length of the crest line of the American falls was 1080 feet in 1842 and is 1060 feet in 1890. The length of the crest of Horseshoe falls was 2260 feet in 1842, and is 3010 feet in 1890. The total area of recession, or of the rock that has disappeared, between 1842 and the present year, 1890, is, at the American falls, 32,900 superficial feet, or 755-1000 of an acre. The total area of recession between 1842 and the present year at the Horseshoe falls is 275,400 superficial feet, or 6 32-100 acres.

"In this connection I desire to express my hope that measures may be taken to carefully preserve the monumental points of this survey, and should any changes of surface become necessary at the location of these points, the state engineer and surveyor may be requested to define and relocate such points. I hope also that similar surveys may be made at short intervals, so that the record of the action of this great natural feature of our country may be accurately made and permanently recorded."

The detailed report, with the maps and statement of results, have been transmitted to the commissioners of the state reservation of Niagara, and, it is understood, will be published with the report of that body.—Buffalo Express.

HORRIBLE RELICS.

Instruments of Torture Used in the Dark Ages.

A Rare Collection from the Castle of Nuremburg on Exhibition in the City of London—Ghastly Inventions.

The earl of Shrewsbury recently purchased the torture implements of the Castle of Nuremberg, and they are now on exhibition in London. The most valuable, as it is the rarest of the whole collection, is the iron maiden (Eiserme Jungfrau). This terror-inspiring torture instrument, says the Albany Argus, is made of strong wood, bound together with iron bands. It opens with two doors to allow the prisoner to be placed inside. The entire door is fitted with long, sharp iron spikes so that when the doors are pressed to these sharp prongs force their way into various portions of the victim's body. Two entered his eyes, others pierced his back, his chest, and in fact, impaled him alive in such a manner that he lingered in the most agonizing torture. When death relieved the poor wretch from his agonies—perhaps after days—a trap door in the base was pulled open and the body was allowed to fall into the moat or river below. Persons were condemned to death by the embraces of the iron maiden for plots against the governing powers, parricide, and religious unbelief. The date of this rare specimen is the fifteenth century. A great number of torture machines were apparently constructed with such devilish ingenuity that they would twist and rack the delicate human body to the point of madness, and yet not actually endanger life.

The torture bench, about ten feet long, was used for stretching prisoners, the feet being fastened to one end, the hands to the other, across a roller studded with wooden spikes, called a "spike hare."

The torture chair, the seat being completely covered with sharp wooden spikes, body, arms and legs being strapped to the chair, and in some cases two heavy stone weights attached to the feet.

The metal boots, which, being placed on a prisoner's feet, molten lead or boiling oil was poured into them.

A ghastly relic in a black box of coffin-like appearance is the dried head of a child-murderess, still transfixed on a rusty spear-head.

There are tongue-tearers, thumbscrews, mouth gags, Spanish gaiters for squeezing the legs to pulp, branding irons, foot-screws, iron chain gloves, to be used when red-hot; iron nippers, iron-wire whips, heavy stones to be worn around the neck, thief-catchers and a large number of two-handled executioner's swords. Of the humorous articles—if, indeed humor can enter into such grim companionship—we may instance the shame-masks, or branks, worn as signs of degradation for slight offenses by men or women, those for the nobility having visors to them like helmets, so that the features were concealed till the penance was over; wooden collars, with bells and tassels for scolds; ducking stools and churn-shaped boxes, known as drunkards' cloaks—an uncomfortable garment fitting too tightly round the neck to allow the head to be withdrawn, and, while too heavy to walk about in for any great length of time, yet not quite short enough to permit the wearer to kneel down in them.

Among the pictures is one of Damien, of whom it may be remembered that, after four horses had failed to pull him asunder, he was afterward tortured with burning oil, and, that not killing him, was finally bound to a stake and burned to death. Appropriately enough, the instruments are placed in a series of dungeon corridors and cells that the Messrs. Tussaud have erected in the basement of their establishment. The dungeon cell is a small room about eight feet by five, so constructed that the air in it could be pumped out, so that the inmates died a slow, suffocating death; perhaps the refinement of cruelty was reached in the plausible escape cell. It was a false beacon to an escaping prisoner, a bait to a poor wretch, who no doubt thought he was about to regain his freedom, maybe a connivance bought; he would hurry down the dark stone corridor to where the rusty gate unlocked or carelessly left ajar would welcome him, to where the bit of shining sky seen through the barred window would gladden his heart, and pushing open the gate with eager hands would at once step into a deep well of water with perpendicular sides.

RICH, RARE AND COSTLY.

Some of the Gems Worn by Aristocrats at Queen Victoria's Court.

The brilliant display of jewels which is always a marked feature of her majesty's drawing-room, has been exercising the minds of a good many worthy people of late with regard to the amount of capital which is locked up, as it were, in this manner.

So much talk, in fact, has been indulged in, says the New York World, as to the value of what are in many cases—certainly in those of the chief members of the aristocracy—heirlooms, that one of the largest jewelers has been moved to consider the matter, and he has come to the conclusion that the glittering baubles which ornament the fair women who attend to pay their devoirs to her majesty or her representative represents a good million and a half sterling, ten per cent. of which is contributed by the gems which the queen herself wears.

Among the other contributed stones is the renowned Nassau diamond, the property of her grace the duchess of Westminster, which alone is worth thirty-five thousand pounds.

Then there is the marchioness of Bath, whose necklace of black pearls has a reputation throughout Europe, and this string is said to be valued at ten thousand pounds.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts, whose sapphires are perhaps even more widely famed, occupies a high place in the list.

A GOOD GIRL TO MARRY.

How She Set Steam and Storm at Defiance and Sailed Into Port.

From the vicinity of George Washington's old home of Mount Vernon comes as good a chapter of reading for growing girls as the cherry-tree-and-hatchet story is for younger boys. This new incident is from the Washington Star, which says:

"The excursion of the high school young people down the Potomac carried a pretty miss of sixteen and a lad of eighteen. Lingering too long, the pair in question missed the last boat by the width of a gang plank.

"Now, here was a pretty pickle, and the girl almost had a fit; but she soon recovered and vowed she would go home some way, even if she had to swim. The servants at the house insisted that the ladies living there be awakened and the young miss go in with them, but she demurred and asked about a rowboat. It was finally learned that boats were to be had a mile or so up the river, and taking the helpless man's arm she started off in the darkness to the place designated. Arriving there safely, she got the boat and two men to row it, and, assuming command, she put her escort aboard, wrapped herself in his mackintosh and set sail for home, where she said her mother was awaiting her.

"About 12:30 o'clock came up that terrible rain you remember, as you turned over in your nice, dry, warm bed to hear it patter and batter on the roof, and the girl was out there on the Potomac in an open boat taking it all. The old skipper at the bow oar said he had never seen an angrier sky. But the girl said never a word save one or two of encouragement to the rowers and to her escort, who in his nice light spring suit was dripping and shivering by her side. The boat filled half full of water and there was no way of bailing it out, but still they kept on. Then the rain stopped, and the biting north wind came down, and the crew and passengers were nearly frozen, and the young man's clothes were blown dry on his back, and he was as blue as Monday, and his teeth chattered till they almost shook his tender mustache out by the roots.

"At 4:30 in the morning they put in at Alexandria, but only to find no train or ferry for two hours, and the girl gave the command to move on to Washington, and once more the tiny bark breasted the waves and the sturdy oarsmen bent beneath their strokes, and the young man shivered and shivered, and wanted to throw bricks at his confounded luck.

"At 6:30 they landed at the wharf, and after paying the men ten dollars for their heroic, all-night work the young fellow followed the girl to the street-cars and they came up town, not altogether as radiant as the morn, but the girl was tickled half to death that she had had her own way and had come home safely to her mother, who was not expecting her, as her brother, who was in the party, had seen how his sister had been left, and had very diplomatically told his mother that she had gone with another sister downtown.

"So it all ended happily except to the callow youth, who paid ten dollars and ruined his new spring clothes."

GREAT AFRICAN WATERFALL.

Cataract on the Southern Frontier of Nyassaland with a Fall of 200 Feet.

Another big waterfall has recently been discovered, says the Chicago Post. It was found by John Buchanan in a journey he made a few months ago along the southern frontier of Nyassaland. The falls occur in Ruo river, which has figured in the recent troubles between the Portuguese and English. The Ruo is named in the treaty between those countries as the boundary line between British Nyassaland and the Portuguese possessions. Mr. Buchanan came upon the Ruo falls at low water, so he did not see them in their full grandeur, though at any season of the year they afford a magnificent spectacle. They are about twenty-five miles from the mouth of the river, which is a tributary of the Shire, and are about one thousand four hundred feet above the sea. At high water the falls are six hundred feet wide and take a giant leap of two hundred feet into a foaming abyss, whose depth Mr. Buchanan had no means of estimating. The general outline of the falls is that of a horseshoe. For about half a year, therefore, these falls, of which we never heard before, and which are within twenty-five miles of a route traveled by many white men ever since Livingstone discovered Lake Nyassa, may be numbered among the most stupendous waterfalls of the world.

When Mr. Buchanan saw them at low water the falls were one hundred and twenty feet wide. The water from the various channels above the falls collects into one main stream, which thunders down the chasm, sending skyward clouds of vapor and dashing along its angry course after spreading into a breadth of four hundred and fifty feet. During the rainy season, while the river is full, Mr. Buchanan says the falls must be one of the most magnificent sights in the world, and even when he saw it he thought that it was well worth traveling many miles to see.

A Queer Epidemic.

It is alleged that for a generation the people of Alexandria, Va., have been afflicted with the whistling distemper. It has often puzzled the good people of Alexandria to know why Gen. Albert Pike changed his place of residence from this place to Washington a few years ago, says a Richmond correspondent. His residence at the corner of Cameron and St. Asaph streets was one of the nicest in this town. He had his magnificent library there, and when, a few years ago, he announced that he had determined to remove to Washington, many were the conjectures as to the cause of the move and many were the causes assigned. Only a few days before his death the matter was cleared up. In a conversation with a gentleman from this city the general was asked why he left this city for Washington, and his reply was because "the Alexandria people whistle too much."

THE GREER ESTATE.

NOTICE.

ALL PERSONS who have purchased lots in the above estate are respectfully requested to forward to box 183, Vancouver P.O., any sum or sums of money they may feel disposed, which amounts will be duly acknowledged and receipts therefor forwarded as credit on back payments, to meet the necessary expenses in three suits now pending, viz.: One criminal and two civil. I have not compromised any who may have purchased property in the estate referred to, with a tyrannical company, well knowing my many friends would stand by me. The darkest hour has arrived. My petition of right will be carried to the foot of the Throne and the six thousand acres, the Canadian Pacific Railway and grant, must fall to the ground. Justice will yet be had.

News in Brief from Europe—The Grain Supply—London Forgers.

Cardinal Lavigerie is seriously ill at Algiers. The Pope has sent his blessing to the cardinal.

Rothschild will renew the Spanish loan of $10,000,000, and will advance $20,000,000 more in gold to the Bank of Spain. The contract will be signed Wednesday.

Seven thousand shoemakers of London have been locked out, and unless the matter at dispute is settled by to-morrow 22,000 persons will be affected by the difficulty.

Grand Duke Alexandria of Oldenburg, chief military expert of Russia, is taking part in a strategic conference now proceeding between French and Russian officers.

Sharp frosts have appeared in England and snow has fallen in the vicinity of Hamburg. Rain has fallen in enormous quantity throughout Greece, and a severe snow storm was experienced in the mountain country.

The Portuguese mail boat from East Africa, which has arrived from Marseilles, reports a recent collision between the British and Portuguese soldiers at Lorenzo-Marquis, in which two were killed and fifteen injured.

A telegram received at the Russian embassy in Paris announces the issuance of a ukase in Russia prohibiting from Sunday the exportation of all cereals excepting wheat. The Russian government has assigned another 32,000,000 roubles to the distress fund.

Foreign Minister Ribot, of France, having urged DeGiers, during his recent visit to Madrid, to try to persuade the Czar to visit France, was told that it was first advisable to expel all Russian refugees, and it is supposed they are preparing to make a clean sweep of them over the Swiss frontier.

According to previous announcement, "Amiso Fritz," Pietro Mascognie's new opera, had its first public performance in Rome Saturday night. The audience manifested great enthusiasm and seven scenes were encored. Signor Mascagningni, one of the principal singers, was called before the curtain thirty-three times.

In view of the cessation of Russian grain exports the statistics of the Glasgow general grain stock for 1891, as compared with that of 1890, are of importance. They show for 1891 a decrease of 74,000 quarters of wheat, 89,000 quarters of maize, 10,000 quarters of barley, and 46,000 sacks of flour. In oats alone is a slight increase shown.

The London police, after a long search, have unearthed a gang of the cleverest cheque forgers operating in recent years. The members of this gang have succeeded in doing what was believed by experts to be impossible, namely, removing from chemically treated bank paper the figures written thereon and replacing them by others entirely different, without leaving a trace of the alteration. There is reason to believe that the stealings of the "combine" have amounted to £20,000 a week for some time past.

An exciting scene was witnessed Saturday night at Bergdorf, a suburb of Hamburg, when the hotel Schwerin was burned and five lives lost. Many narrow escapes of the inmates were made, and the work of the firemen was, owing to the construction of the building and the rapidity with which the flames spread, full of danger. A company of negro minstrels, who had been playing in Hamburg, was lodged in the upper story of the hotel. Three of them found their escape cut off. Two brave firemen volunteered, in the face of almost certain death, to go to their assistance. Just as the two rescuers had reached the floor on which the three minstrels were hemmed in by the flames, the building collapsed and all five were plunged into the blazing mass and perished.

UNHEALTHY WEATHER!

Thousands Crying Out With Rheumatism!

WET AND COLD AGGRAVATE SICKNESS AND DISEASE!

The Safe Course to Pursue!

The autumn season, with its spells of cold and wet, is to many a time of agony and suffering. The doctors everywhere are looking after the rheumatic, and, as far as cure is concerned, are meeting with small success. At this particular time the men and women who are the victims of rheumatism are to be pitied. They dare not venture out unless the weather is fine. They shudder with fear when the icy winds blow and the cold rains pour down. They dread wet and cold limbs, and are continually in fear of increased sufferings. These sufferers should bear in mind that this dreadful malady often attacks the vital organs, and it is a well known fact that deaths from this disease are more numerous in the autumn than any other season. For all such sufferers there is a comforting assurance that Paine's Celery Compound is a complete eradicator of this painful and dangerous disease. No other known remedy has ever accomplished such wonderful results amongst our Canadian people. The prescriptions of doctors have failed in nearly every case, while Paine's Celery Compound has been triumphant. We kindly advise every reader who is a martyr to rheumatism to procure a bottle of this wonderful preparation and give it a trial.

Pale, drooping girls, worn weary with a burden of disease almost greater than they can bear, should take heart and suffer no longer. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a certain cure for all diseases to womankind. They restore the blood, build anew the nerves, and leave happiness and health when used. Sold by dealers or sent on receipt of price (50c a box) by addressing Dr. Williams Med. Co., Brockville, Ont.

The central point of the United States territory is in the bay of San Francisco. This fact may startle the Chicagoan, but will be found strictly correct if one considers that the western limit of land over which the Stars and Stripes wave is on the Aleutian islands, only fifty miles from the Asiatic coast and 3,000 miles beyond the Golden Gate.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1889 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." William A. Lehr, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

COAL

The New Vancouver Coal Mining & Land Co., L'd.

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.),

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL
House and Steam Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.

A BY-LAW

To authorize certain officials to borrow money to meet current expenditure.

WHEREAS by Sub-section 133 of Section 96 of the "Municipal Act, 1891," it is enacted that the municipal council of any city in the Province of British Columbia be authorized under the conditions therein expressed to borrow from any person such sum of money and bearing such rate of interest as may be requisite to meet the current legal expenditure of the corporation which becomes payable out of the annual revenue before the revenue for the year becomes payable by the taxpayers;

AND WHEREAS it is found necessary in order to meet the current legal expenditure of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow the sums of money hereinafter mentioned in accordance with said Sub-section 133 of Section 96 of said "Municipal Act, 1891."

THEREFORE BE IT ENACTED by the Mayor and Aldermen of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow from the Bank of British North America such sums of money as may be requisite to meet the current legal expenditure of the said Corporation which becomes payable out of the municipal revenue, and the amounts so borrowed shall be repayable and repaid on or before the 31st day of December, A.D. 1891, out of the municipal revenue for the said year.

2. The amounts so borrowed shall not exceed in the whole the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars ($250,000), and the rate of interest payable thereon shall not exceed the rate of six per centum per annum.

3. The obligation to be given to the said Bank shall be in writing signed by the Mayor and the Clerk of the Municipal Council of the said Corporation and shall be in the form of a promissory note and shall bear the corporate seal of the said Corporation.

4. All agreements for advance heretofore made from said Bank are hereby confirmed.

5. The "Bank Credit Amendment By-Law, 1891," is hereby repealed.

6. This By-Law may be cited as the "Bank Credit Amendment By-Law, 1891, No. 2."

Passed the Municipal Council the 22nd day of September, A.D., 1891.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council this 5th day of October, A.D., 1891.

A BY-LAW

For the levying of Rates upon Land and the Improvements thereon.

BE IT ENACTED by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. This By-Law may be cited as "The Land and Improvement Rate By-Law."

2. From and after the passing of this By-Law there shall be raised levied and collected upon all the land and improvements upon the assessment roll of the Corporation of the City of Victoria the following rates on the assessed value thereof as appears by the said roll:

Upon all land an equal rate of one per cent. and one-half of one per cent.

Upon all improvements upon land an equal rate of three quarters of one per cent.

3. The aforesaid rates and taxes shall be due and payable by the person or persons liable therefor to the Collector of the said Corporation at his office at the City Hall in the City of Victoria on or before the 1st day of December, 1891.

Passed the Municipal Council the 22nd day of September, A.D. 1891.

Re-considered and finally passed the Council the 5th day of October, A.D., 1891.

WRESTLING.

A NAINAIMO CONTEST.

NANAIMO, Nov. 3.—Horribin and Stewart, who have been talking to each other for the past 12 months, were brought together on the carpet in the Opera House last night in a match for $500 aside, catch-as-catch-can style. The house was packed to witness the match, as considerable money had been staked on the result during the day. Both men as they appeared with their trainers and seconds were seen to be in the pink of condition. Horribin had the advantage in height and Stewart appeared more robust. The first bout lasted 43 minutes and was stubbornly contested. Horribin once broke from a dangerous choke-hold only to return the favor on Stewart's neck, which came nearly being disastrous to him, and he finally obtained a flying fall through Stewart's carelessness. The second bout was won by Stewart in eight minutes. At this stage considerable odds were offered on Stewart, with no takers. Everybody seemed to be excited. The men came together for the final bout at 11 o'clock, but both were very wary and choke-holds appeared to be resorted to by both men, but without avail, and after wrestling an hour the referee declared the match a draw. Never has a more even match taken place in this city, and although unsatisfactory in its termination the audience had the value for their money.

EASTERN FOOTBALL NOTES.

A cablegram from London says that on Saturday the Canadian-Americans played a game of football with Burnley, one of England's strongest professional teams. Each team secured two goals.

A match for the Quebec Rugby Union Championship was played at Montreal on Saturday between the Montreal and McGill clubs, resulting in favor of the former by a score 33 to 9.

Grover Is Outdone.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Hermann Oelrichs was a happier man last night even than was Grover Cleveland upon a recent event of national interest. At 8:10 p.m. he became the father of a magnificent specimen of babyhood weighing 11 pounds, 7 ounces. The child was born at the Oelrichs residence, 653 Fifth Avenue. The attending physicians were Drs. Wm. Walker and Swift, of East 308th street. Mrs. Oelrichs' sister, Miss Fair, was with her. Mr. and Mrs. Oelrichs were married a year ago last summer. They came to this city from San Francisco, taking their bridal trip from there on Mr. Oelrichs' yacht. Mrs. Oelrichs was the daughter of the late Senator Fair and of Mrs. Teresa Fair, who died early in September. Mr. Oelrichs, it is understood, is greatly pleased that his youthful son outweights Mr. Cleveland's by 3 pounds, 11 ounces.

GEESE FEATHERS AND ASTHMA.

The Feather Bed of Our Fathers Wiped Out by Climatic Complaints.

What has become of the old-fashioned feather bed, asks the Buffalo Enquirer.

There was a time, and not long ago, either, when the acme of hospitality bestowed upon the honored guest a chamber, chief of whose attractions was a huge bedstead, and its snowy white sheet and daintily-figured counterpane concealing a luxurious bed of feathers, softer than the down of swans, and fairly wooing one to sweet, refreshing slumber.

To-day the guest chamber presents a modern bedstead, cut low in the neck and furnished with covers, wire springs, mattresses of corn husks, sea grass, cotton or hair as the case may be.

The sign "Live Geese Feathers," which at one time was a familiar figure on the business streets of Buffalo and any other city of any pretensions has likewise disappeared.

"There isn't one pound of goose feathers used to-day where there were 20 pounds used 10 years ago," said a dealer. "There are several reasons for this, the principal one being that the feather bed has gone entirely out of fashion.

"Now, what do you suppose had a great deal to do with driving the feather bed out of favor? Asthma and hay fever. They have done more than any other thing to lessen the demand for feather beds and pillows, for it was discovered a few years ago that feather beds and asthma had a strong affinity for each other, and that nothing would start an asthmatic wheezing so quickly as a couch of goose feathers. Asthmatics were not long in finding it out, and the taboo of the feather bed and pillow extended to all parts of the country. The goose owes a great deal of its latter-day comfort to asthma. That is, unless it is true that the plucking of feathers from a live goose is not accompanied with pain, as many people profess to believe, but I have very grave doubts of such being the fact.

"Oh, yes. Feathers must be taken from live geese if the comfort and health of people who persist in their attachment to the feather-beds are to be considered. Dead feathers are as inelastic as husks, and are inimical to the sleeper. New live feathers are by no means pleasant, but dead ones are simply unbearable to a sensitive person. A goose that is being plucked never utters a sound, and it is because of this that the impression prevails among all geese pickers that no pain attends the process. It is just as reasonable to say that it dosen't hurt a goose to yank the feathers by the handful out of the tenderest spots on a goose's body as it would be to say it doesn't hurt a man to have his whiskers pulled out. I have heard people say that a goose rather enjoys being picked, the sensation being, they declare, something similar to that blissful feeling that overtakes a pig when you scratch his back. That is all nonsense. It hurts a goose terribly to be plucked, and the only reason that it doesn't make a fuss is that it doesn't know enough. A goose will squawk and cackle and clatter as if it was suffering more agony than a horse with the colic just at sight of you, but if you corner it up and pelt it with stones it seems to forget that it has a voice, and will take all the punishment you give it without making a noise."

A Strike Ended.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—The strike of iron moulders which began twenty months ago came to an end to-day, the moulders having decided to return to work.

CHRYSANTHEMUM MONTH.

The Remarkable Flower Will Flourish in November.

The one thing that makes the flower lover look forward to November with pleasure after the summer's wealth of bloom has passed away is that November is the month given up to the worship of the chrysanthemum, the peerless queen of autumn, says the New York Sun. Year by year in America and Europe interest in this wonderful flower increases.

The home of the best varieties of the chrysanthemum is Japan, the birthplace of the dwarf orange tree and oaks a century old in six inch pots. The highest distinction the Mikado can confer on any of his subjects is the decoration of the chrysanthemum. The chrysanthemum is also the royal seal, and for centuries has been esteemed and loved by people, nobles and commons. When we think of the slow growth of varieties in garden flowers, how long the single rose must have been cultivated and variations noted and fostered before we had the immense full double sorts now known, we are obliged to believe that it is centuries since the careful Chinese and Japanese gardeners began to improve the chrysanthemum from the little single affair which is supposed to be the original of all the varieties now in cultivation.

The Japanese guard the choicest flowers with jealous care, and it is possible that varieties are carefully cultivated in some parts of the Empire that are superior to those known to Occidentals. It is even believed by some travelers that in some parts of either China or Japan there exists that fabulous flower, the blue chrysanthemum. Chrysanthemums of blue are figured on old porcelain and mentioned in written works.

Mrs. Skidmore, in her book, "Jinrikisha Days in Japan," states that in the house of the head man of the village of Kawana, the possessor of a wonderful collection of chrysanthemums, she was given a salad made from the petals of yellow chrysanthemums. It is said also that the Japanese put the petals of the flower into the sake cup to prolong life and keep free from misfortunes. It is possible that the resinous quality of the flower has some hidden virtue not generally known.

A Sea Voyage.

A sea voyage is an expensive and extensive prescription, especially when equally good results as regards health, are to be had by simply taking Burdock Blood Bitters according to directions. It is a specific for dyspepsia, cleanses the blood, regulates the liver, bowels and kidneys and removes all impure matter from the system.
